MRS. EDWARDS HAS GAINED FOURTEEN POUNDS BY TAKING TANLAC.

"I weigh just fourteen pounds more than I did when I commenced taking Tanlac a short time ago, and my troubles have been completely overcome," said Mrs. Nancy Edwards, who lives at 5620 East 12th Street, Kansas City, Mo., while talking to a Tanlac representative the other day.

"About two years ago," continued Mrs. Edwards, "I began to have stomach trouble, and until I commenced taking Tanlac, my condition had gradually grown worse all the time. In fact, I had reached the point where I was so weak and run down that I was hardly able to get about. Everything I ate disagreed with me, and the gas that formed from sour, undigested food, would make me miserable for hours at a time. I would have raging headaches nearly every day, and was so nervous all the time that the least noise would upset me, and when night came on it was a hard matter for me to get off to sleep. I often had such bad dizzy spells that I could hardly stand on my feet. The different medicines and treatments I tried didn't do me any good at all."

"My daughter had been taking Tanlac, and it had done her so much good that I decided to give it a trial myself, and I can honestly state that by the time I had finished my first bottle I was feeling like a different person. Well, I just kept on getting better, and now since taking three or four bottles of Tanlac, I am enjoying the best of health in every way. I never had a better appetite, and what I eat agrees with me perfectly, and I never have a sign of indigestion or stomach trouble of any kind. The nervousness has left me, and I get plenty of good sound sleep every night, and I have gained so much in weight and strength that I can do all my housework without the least trouble. Those awful headaches are gone, too, and that alone would make me praise Tanlac the longest day I live."

Tanlac is sold in Dakota City by Neiswanger Pharmacy, in South Sioux City by Shane's Pharmacy, and in Homer by Wagner Pharmacy.

When the Stowell car was stopped in the road near Galler's onion patch to have the lights adjusted, Galler claimed the party was taking some of his onion, and grabbing his shotgun fired twice at them after the car had started down the road. The postmaster-editor of the Eagle forgot the main issue in his "innuendo" this week and failed to state what he did with that special delivery letter mailed to the Herald from Des Moines over four years ago; and why he sent the plate advertisement of the republican state ticket mailed from Lincoln last fall to the Herald to Chicago with the empty tin sacks; and why he persists in opening mail addressed to the Herald, thereby making a double blunder on each piece of mail. Stott Neiswanger and Donald Best, in the D. M. Neiswanger Ford, collided with an Oldsmobile driven by a farmer living west of Homer Friday evening, at the crossing just south of the cemetery. Best was driving the Ford and was so blinded by the bright lights from the other car that the two came together in the middle of the road before they could stop. The Ford was upset and considerably damaged, as was the Olds, which lost a front wheel and was otherwise battered up. The driver of the Olds has threatened to bring a suit for damages to his car, but as he was driving with extra bright lights, which is in violation of the automobile laws, it will be a hard matter for him to convince anybody that he was not more or less to blame for the accident. Fortunately no one was injured in the mixup.

Fall Seeding Gives Good Results

While Nebraska is not limited to any one time of the year for seeding clover, alfalfa and grass, both fall and spring having their advantages, extended trials at the Agricultural Experiment Station indicate that August is the most suitable time for seeding grasses in eastern Nebraska if the seed bed and moisture conditions are favorable then. If seeded later than September 1, there is considerable danger of winter killing because of the small growth which the plants are able to make after that time. While some doubt has always been expressed as to the success from fall seeding of red clover, the Experiment Station obtained perfect stands during the three years, 1914, 1915 and 1916, by seeding in August.

Farmers Going to Town.

(From Farm Bureau News).
Reports show that in nearly every community every year there are many farmers who sell out and move to the city. They think they will make more money. Most city men wish for the country and feel they would be happier and better off there. Some city men make fortunes. But where one makes a million dollars, thousands make just enough to feed themselves and the city always has many people hungry. Some farmers make good livings and many send their children to school and college, own automobiles and are independent. Many others live very uncomfortably, but how many farmers go hungry? The average farmer makes about $400 labor income after allowing for interest on his investment. Yet when you add to this the house rent and cost of milk, butter, eggs, and meat, the farmer's income will compare favorably with the average man in town. So whether a man should move to a city or stay on a farm, depends on whether he likes nature, or prefers to go where he has a greater chance of making much money—or of going hungry. A business farmer makes a satisfactory labor income and usually has no desire to go to the city.

Potato Growers Planning Big Convention

Plans are being made for the third annual convention and show of the Nebraska Potato Improvement association, which will be at Rushville the second week in November. There are prospects that a bumper potato crop will have been harvested by that time. The association is urging all potato growers to plan to attend the convention. Whether able to attend or not every grower in the state is urged to send a 10-tuber exhibit of his spuds. Those who grow early potatoes in eastern Nebraska should store their show exhibits carefully. If they have no good place available, their exhibits will be placed in cold storage for them if sent to H. O. Warner, Secretary of the Nebraska Potato Improvement association, University Farm, Lincoln.

The Cost of Lice.

It costs just one cent more per pound to fatten a lousy hog than one free of the pests, according to an experiment recently completed at the United States Department of Agriculture farm at Beltsville, Md. Twenty-four lousy hogs were used in the test. They were divided into two lots as nearly as possible equal as to quality of animals. Both lots were fed and managed the same way, except one lot was treated to prevent lice. The hogs were weighed at intervals and it was found when the test was completed that the infested hogs lost one cent a pound more to fatten than those free of lice.—The Swine World.
